Spotlight On Enamelist Bill Lorch

By Alyson Ober

Enamels By Blorch

Bill Lorch has been a permanent fixture at the Sprinkler Factory for about 5 years. His constant smile and sociable nature have become familiar to all who know him. He is quick to welcome new artists and make them feel part of the community!

Bill's wife, Elisa, suggested that he get back in to enameling after taking it in high school and enjoying it. With three years of classes at the Worcester Craft Center, things quickly took off afterwards.

During his trips to the southwest, Bill developed a deep appreciation for ancient Indian Petroglyphs and southwestern art in general. This has become his artistic theme. He says he enjoys both the cutting and enameling aspects of his work. Bill makes each piece with a unique personal touch, which is evident when looking at his work. He has shown his work at the Wachusett Apple Festival, as well as many times at the Bead Extravaganzas.
